

Hitler's Socialism vs. Marx's Communism

The condition of Germany before Hitler came to power was the same as the USA and other Western nations is today: Massive sins of homosexuality, transgenderism, sexualization of children, drug addiction, abortion, greed, stealing, feminism, Antifa insurrections, crime, corrupt politicians, grotesque art and music, and other immoralities, and Marxist and anti-Christian indoctrination, all orchestrated by apostate Jews, Marxists, Freemasons, humanists, and sinful capitalists. When Hitler came to power, he ended all of this almost overnight.

Since Hitler's Germany lost the war, the world has gone to hell again. One must ask, "Who is messing up the world today in a worse way than ever?" It is not Hitler and his big bad Nazis. They have no power in this world. Just look at who won the war and who has the most power in this world and you will have your answer. Beware, then, of current day evildoers who have you looking back 78 years to the dead Hitler and powerless Nazis instead looking at them. Keep your eyes on the Bull's Eye, the current day evildoers who rule this world.

That being said, Hitler's socialism is not understood by most. Most think it is the same as Marxist communism and that Hitler was against capitalism. But nothing is further from the truth. Socialism, as practiced by Hitler's Germany, was good because of the following reasons: While it supported capitalism, private property, prosperity, and progress, it bridled them by State control and made them work for the common good of all of its citizens and the environment. Hence it condemned and eradicated greed, selfishness, waste, un-frugality, covetousness, envy, sinful pride, and sinful destruction of the environment. In fact, no economic system in modern times was as successful and good for all its citizens and the environment as the socialism of Hitler's Germany. Hitler's definition of socialism is as follows from his own words:

Adolph Hitler: "A Socialist is one who serves the common good without giving up his individuality or personality or the product of his personal efficiency. Our adopted term 'Socialist' has nothing to do with Marxian Socialism. Marxism is anti-property; true socialism is not. Marxism places no value on the individual, or individual effort, or efficiency; true Socialism values the individual and encourages him in individual efficiency, at the same time holding that his interests as an individual must be in consonance with those of the community. All great inventions, discoveries, achievements were first the product of an individual brain. It is charged against me that I am against property, that I am an atheist. Both charges are false."

Adolph Hitler: "Here we have a clear example of the difference between the socialist and the communist State. In the socialist State, the individual or his professional community retains the individual and joint responsibility for himself or his professional associates. In the communist State, all responsibility and care is assumed by the State and shifted onto it. . . . Socialism preserves individual liberty with a view to the welfare of the general public. Communism abolishes this freedom through collectivization—that is, by creating herds and herd animals, whom the State drives to work and to the pasture.' "
